

VISITING STUDENTS

Visiting

Students currently enrolled at an ABA-approved law school may be admitted to Northwestern Law as visiting students for a single term or an academic year. A student admitted under this section shall have the designation of visiting student and shall not be considered as a candidate for a degree from Northwestern.