Consider the relationships between faith, morality, and social context. Both religious and ethical systems and the lived experience of religion will be examined.

Students will expand their knowledge of comparative analysis of belief. They may take a range of courses offered through the Liberal Studies certificates of advanced graduate study in the areas of History, American Studies, Digital Studies, Religious and Ethical Studies, and Interdisciplinary Studies. They may also choose to focus on a more individualized course of study in consultation with the Student Adviser for Liberal Studies.

The course will also prepare students for graduate work in literary and cultural studies with a focus on academic genres of writing and research methods.

This course considers the relation between art, culture, and society as it has been conceived, problematized and reconceived over time. The course will also prepare students for graduate work in literary and cultural studies with a focus on academic genres of writing and research methods.

Students enrolled in the Interdisciplinary Studies certificate have the greatest flexibility in their course selection. They may take a range of courses offered through the Liberal Studies certificates of advanced graduate study curriculum in the areas of History, American Studies, Chicago Studies, and Religious and Ethical Studies. They may also choose to focus on a more individualized course of study in consultation with the Student Adviser for Liberal Studies.

Pursue a broadly interdisciplinary course of study focusing on the comparative analysis of belief. Students will expand their knowledge of both religious and ethical systems and of the lived experience of religion. The relationships between faith, morality, and social context will also be considered.
Topics vary. May be repeated for credit with different topic.

IPLS 492-DL Special Topics (1 Unit)
Topics vary. May be repeated for credit with different topic.

IPLS 499-0 Independent Study (1 Unit)
Independent Study.

IPLS 590-0 Thesis Research (1 Unit)
Thesis Research.