LEARNING AND ORGANIZATIONAL CHANGE

Students who are interested in such fields as management, consulting, change management, training, design of knowledge systems, and human resources in for-profit and not-for-profit organizations normally enter the learning and organizational change concentration. They combine core coursework in learning sciences, organization behavior, psychology, and human development with the necessary work in economics, quantitative methods, communications, and computer science to prepare for careers as organizational leaders and change agents and for graduate study in education, the social sciences, and management.

Program of Study

LOC 211-0 Intro to Organization Theory & Practice (1 Unit) Examines major organizational behavior theories and practices through organizational analysis.
